we offer

Do you help people – old or young – make music?
Do you run workshops or music sessions? Do you teach music?

Then Sound Sense is your professional association, supporting and representing you.

Recognise yourself?
We welcome musicians, workshop leaders, teachers, peripatetic tutors, early years workers, music leaders, orchestra and opera education managers, youth workers, music therapists, students, lecturers, arts organisations, music officers, arts funders, local authorities, health workers, play workers, multicultural arts groups, colleges and universities, creative practitioners, community arts administrators

... anyone who works in or has an interest in music work with people

Staying safe with Sound Sense

FREE insurance

More and more, it's vital that your working practices are safe. Only Sound Sense's public liability insurance scheme covers you specifically for planning and carrying out community music activities. It also covers you for general music teaching and for your gigging and other musical activities.* And best of all it's free for Sound Sense individual earning members.

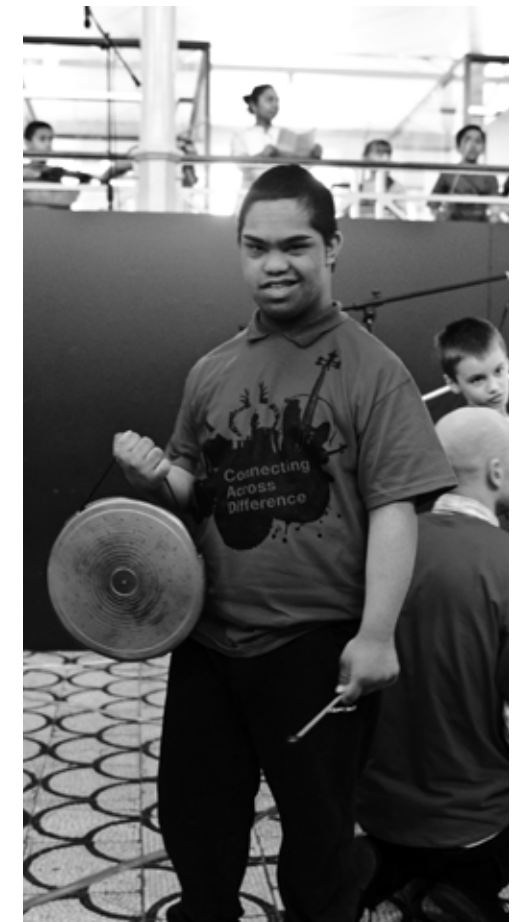

*Provided that your income from gigging and other musical activities is less than £7,500 a year.

Criminal records checks

If you work with children or vulnerable adults you're likely to need a certificate from the Disclosure and Barring Service to show you're fit to do so. You can get yours through your Sound Sense membership, at a competitive rate.

"Many thanks for the insurance. Bargain!"

"Thanks for your response, it was helpful and I have decided to apply for a disclosure for myself and a teacher I will be using"

Building your business with Sound Sense

Free advertisements

Whether you're a freelancer or an organisation you can advertise yourself and your work to thousands of people every month, with our searchable online directory at www.soundsense.org. Entries contain contact information plus your profile and areas of work.

Jobs and funding info

Locate the latest jobs and find out about funding – just log in to the members' area of www.soundsense.org for the latest opportunities that we won't tell anyone else!

"Directories, information, insurance – this membership gives me all the tools I need to fulfil the remit of my work"

All the latest debates and news

Free journal

Sounding Board is the widely-respected UK journal of community music. Recharging your work regularly, you'll find cutting-edge debate, the latest research described, opinionated columns, community music practice unpicked, and more.

"Sounding Board is really interesting and punchy too, and well worth the subscription just for that"

Free newsletters

A dozen issues a year of Bulletin Board link you with information on training, conferences, jobs, networking contacts plus all the latest funding opportunities. All delivered direct to your email box.

Professional development from Sound Sense

Networking opportunities
Sound Sense members support each other with advice, contacts, and help in getting work.

“It’s great to be connected and I’m looking forward to exploring the Sound Sense website/newsletters etc some more”

Help when you need it
Do you ever have burning questions that you just can’t find the answer to? Contact the member helpline for exclusive help on all your community music queries.

Conferences and training
Sound Sense brings members free or discounted rates at professional development and networking events around the UK each year. You can learn from other musicians, and meet representatives from funders and organisations who’ll use your services.

“We’re often working in isolation in lots of ways – either on our own or as the only community musician in a project – it’s reassuring and inspiring to talk with others”

Your professional association
Sound Sense promotes your work to government and funders, to ensure your profession gets the respect it deserves.

[1] Rates apply in the UK by direct debit or PayPal only. Direct debit and PayPal reduce our administration costs and enable us to provide you with better benefits; you are covered by a guarantee against errors and rate increases, and get the benefit of payment in interest-free quarterly instalments. If you cannot pay by direct debit, or for overseas rates, contact us for alternative arrangements. We reserve the right to refuse applications for membership.

[2] Public liability insurance scheme applies only to this category of membership

[3] Includes three copies of Sounding Board, to share with colleagues

[4] Three copies of Sounding Board, and Bulletin Board by email; no other member benefits

The Direct Debit Guarantee

- This Guarantee is offered by all Banks and Building Societies that take part in the Direct Debit Scheme. The efficiency and security of the scheme is monitored and protected by your own Bank and Building Society.
- If the amounts to be paid or the payment dates change, Sound Sense will notify you ten working days in advance of your account being debited or as otherwise agreed.
- If an error is made by Sound Sense or your Bank or Building Society, you are guaranteed a full and immediate refund from your branch of the amount paid.
- You can cancel a Direct Debit at any time by writing to your Bank or Building Society. Please also send a copy of your letter to us.

This leaflet is also available in an alternative format info@soundsense.org | 07855 501220
